CELSION Retains Cameron Associates as Investor Relations Advisor

Columbia, MD - September 18, 2007: CELSION CORPORATION (AMEX: CLN) today announced that it has retained Cameron Associates, Inc. as its investor relations advisor. Cameron Associates is a 30-year-old New York-based, full-service investor relations firm that represents a wide variety of publicly-held companies in the U.S.

"Celsion is leveraging its technology platform to encapsulate and deliver locally higher concentrations of proven chemotherapeutic drugs," said Michael Tardugno, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Our immediate focus is to achieve two objectives: the clinical success and regulatory approval for our initial drug, ThermoDox, while at the same time, identifying and developing an oncology drug pipeline that addresses a range of indications."

"Our story is compelling, but relatively new. We believe Cameron will help us engage the investment community, gaining greater visibility and a growing understanding for our company as we achieve a number of significant milestones in the months and quarters ahead," concluded Mr. Tardugno.
